Respected Sir/Madam,

I am a dedicated and passionate MEAN stack developer, currently serving as an intern at Luminar Technolab in Kochi.

Over the course of my internship, I have embraced the challenges and emerged as a proficient MEAN stack developer, completing five noteworthy projects. Among these, I consider the social media app developed using Angular to be my most significant achievement. This project not only allowed me to gain a deeper understanding of Angular but also provided an opportunity for creative problem-solving and innovative design implementation.

Having devoted nearly six months to my internship at Luminar Technolab, I am now eager to take the next step in my career. I would love to get into an organization like Mozanta, where I can contribute my skills to drive company growth and further my professional development. I look forward to the possibility of joining your team and await your response.

Sincerely,

Sudheesh S
